Common life events that can affect your mental wellbeing include:

- loss or bereavement
- loneliness
- relationship problems
- issues at work
- worry about money

However there are times when there is no discernable reason for the way a person feels which can be extremely frustrating.

There are some factors that may make people more vulnerable to experiencing a period of poor mental wellbeing. These may have happened in the past or might still be happening now:

- Childhood abuse, trauma, violence or neglect

- Join a group. Think of the things you like to do, such as drawing, gardening or sport and look for local groups. Meeting others with a shared interest can increase your confidence and build your support network.
- Talk about the way you feel. Opening up to a trusted friend or family member can help you to feel listened to and supported. Just acknowledging your feelings by saying them out loud can help.
- Use peer support. If you're finding things difficult, talking to people who have similar feelings or experiences can help you to feel accepted.
